ABSTRACT

This paper is part of a larger study that uses visuals as a means to rethink the changing political and cultural landscape of contemporary Kerala. It is an attempt to go beyond treating visuals as merely representational to explore ways in which these can be seen as historical actors.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

G. Arunima is Professor at the Centre for Women's Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, and is at present the Director of the Kerala Council for Historical Research, Trivandrum, Kerala. She has researched and published on both the historical and the contemporary contexts of Kerala and India, focusing particularly on cultural, visual and material texts, and rethinking the politics of the contemporary.
